

Preparedness is the key to success

Identifying the path to success early and often in your turnaround is key to the final outcome. PathReady is a critical part of any successful Event. PathReady provides an inexpensive way to identify weaknesses from the beginning stages all the way into your execution phase. Identifying and rectifying these items during all phases of planning will allow your team the opportunity to resolve any weaknesses while giving the best probability of success.

PathReady's Preparedness Review Score (PRS) method of reporting is pivotal to identifying and tracking progress and projected outcome.
